

PAINÉ'S CELERY COMPOUND.

Best Spring Remedy in the World—
It Makes People Well!

There is one real spring remedy.

There is one true specific for diseases arising from a debilitated nervous system, and that is Paine's celery compound, so generally prescribed by physicians. It is probably the most remarkable remedy that the scientific researches of this country has produced. Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., D. Sc., of Dartmouth college, first prescribed what is now known the world over as Paine's celery compound, a specific cure for dyspepsia, biliousness, liver complaint, neuralgia, rheumatism, all nervous diseases and kidney trouble. For the latter, Paine's celery compound has succeeded again and again where everything else has failed.

The medical journals of this country and Europe have given more space in the last few years to the many remarkable cases where the use of Paine's celery compound has made people well, than to any one subject.

ARTZ'S LAST WORDS

As He Retires From the Military Leadership

OF THE KANSAS FORCES OF POPULISM

Gen. Artz Says He Found His Place a Hot One Plagued by Other Populists Who Wanted It, But He Retires at Peace With Himself.

Adjutant General Artz is no longer adjutant general of the Kansas National guard. He this afternoon turned over his office and all the property of the state in his possession to his successor, Major A. J. Davis, and retired to private life. Gen. Artz says he turned over about $2,000 worth of property in excess of what he received for when he took the office a little over a year ago.

In retiring from the office, Gen. Artz has written the following letter to the officers and members of the National Guard of the state:

TOPEKA, KANSAS, March 31, 1894.
To the Officers and Members of the Kansas National Guard.

I desire through the press to express my gratitude to you. Knowing as I did that I took charge of the office of adjutant general of the state amid the most intense political strife, with a terrible prejudice from my political enemies, and a deep jealousy, and an insatiate desire for my place by some of my pretended political friends. This in brief was the condition when I accepted the position.

But through the kindness of my commander-in-chief, and a liberal supply of patience, things improved with time. By strict economy we were able to give the guard regimental encampment in 1893. I say frankly it is not what I should like to have seen it, for the boys were subject to many inconveniences that they should have been spared, but it was beyond my power to prevent.

In these encampments I have had the pleasure of meeting every company and band composing the guard except company "C" Third regiment, stationed at Osborn. This exception I very much regret. I can assure the guard that after meeting them face to face, and forming the acquaintance of the officers and men, I can truly congratulate the state upon the high morale one of the men comprising the military forces of the state. It was my great desire to have the guard at the World's fair, but found it beyond my power to succeed.

My exertions all in my power to improve the condition of the Guard, and if I have failed I hope my action will not be criticized very much, and I may say with confidence, never will the Guard be passed over again.

I wish to tender to the officers and men of the Guard my heartfelt, and sincerest thanks for their patriotic and heroic services during the recent rebellion, and this will be during my term, and may the state see fit to still more highly appreciate your true value. Let me from the bottom with no regrets, feeling that I have done my duty, at least I could under many trying circumstances. In conclusion allow me to again thank you, and may the National Guard of Kansas have a long, bright, and peaceful future.

H. H. ARTZ,
Adjutant General of Kansas.

WILL NOT MEET.

Sudden Postponement of the Meeting of Republican Women Here April 5.

To the Editor of the State Journal:

Sir: It has suddenly been decided to postpone the convention of the Kansas Woman's Republican Association which was advertised to meet in Topeka April 5th.

A telegram from Mrs. J. Ellen Foster, president of the National Woman's Republican Association, came to Topeka April 5.

She is busy in the interest of Rep.

Republican Women here April 5.

To the Editor of the State Journal:

Sir: We are busy in the interest of Protection at Washington.

The business which keeps Mrs. J. Ellen Foster at Washington at this time is made clear by the following dispatch to the Chicago Herald.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Sixteen modern Hebrews and reformists June are here to protest against the passage of the Wilson bill. They are all the way from New England, and they profess to be factory girls. Their professions in this regard are not disputed, for there is enough female lowliness in the delegation to quiet even the doubts of a congressman. There are dusky blondes and sunburnt brunettes in numbers sufficient to stock a beauty show, and before they leave Washington they propose to hear the semi-literate committee in its dangerously speaking, and to raise their sweet voices in protest against the horrible tariff bill. This alluring suggestion of tariff experts is in charge of Mrs. J. Ellen Foster, the Mrs. League of the Republican party. Today they wandered through the corridors of the capitol, looking at the pictures in the rotunda, viewed the marbles and bronzes in statuary hall, and gazed down upon the congressmen from the galleries of the house and senate. Mrs. J. Ellen Foster accompanied them through the capitol, and she was aided by a few lady friends from Washington who had volunteered their services.

All of the young women express themselves as bitterly opposed to the Wilson bill, and they set forth their views with much earnestness and intelligence. They make no declaration that if the bill becomes a law it will have the effect of closing many of the New England factories and cotton mills, and that great depression is felt throughout that section of the country.
